News Culled for The Progress by our own correspondents.

KATEPWE.

—Fall plowing is very dry work this season.

—Mr. McKechnie's new traction engine steamer is a dandy.

—Mr. Peltier talks of going to Long Lake to fish for the railroaders.

—Nature has commenced to don her autumn dress with its usual variegations.

—Potatoes are a fine dry sample but did not crowd each other much for room in the hill.

—Citrons, cucumbers and such like vegetables have decided not to grow much more this fall.

—Mr. Peter Ferguson, late of Ontario, intends wintering in the Northwest with his nephew.

—Threshing is well under way; sample A No. 1 hard. Yield rather under than over expectations.

MOOSOMIN.

—Miss Minnie McCallum has been engaged as teacher of Ravine Bank school.

—Mr. Joseph Little, of Portage la Prairie, spent a few days this week in this district.

—Mr. Wm. Clements, contractor, has started the brick work on the new Methodist church.

—The C.P.R. is now putting in a crossing on Main street, which will be of great convenience to the town.

—Mr. Richard Chappell has moved into the house on Carleton street, lately erected by Mr. John McKenzie.

On Friday, the 20th inst., at 4 o'clock, the corner stone of the Methodist church will be laid with Masonic ceremony, Canon O'Meara officiating.

—Mr. John Smithers, who was been laid up the last two weeks from injury received while umpiring a game of baseball, is now around again.

—Threshing is the order of the day in the district. The yield is not very large but the sample is the best ever grown around here. J. R. Neff, M.L.A., has completed threshing and reports that he has about 5,000 bushels of No. 1 hard.

ON THE SURFACE.

Skin diseases appear on the surface and are often humiliating to the sufferer from them. From two to three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters will cure salt rheum, erysipelas, shingles, tetter, nettle rash, eczema, boils, pimples, or blotches, at the same time restoring the general health.

REGINA.

—Messrs. Mutch Brothers, of Carssdale, have just finished threshing. They have 2000 bushels of 100 acres.

—Messrs. Davin, M.P., Secord, M.L.A., Mowat and Stemshorn are at Wood Mountain on a shooting expedition.

—The Mayor has received a telegram saying that the Governor-General and suite will arrive in Regina on Oct. 3rd. and leave on the 5th.

—Mr. Alex. Martin, a brother of Mr. Robert Martin of Dawson, Bole & Co., arrived from Ontario on the 15th inst., on business. The brother of Mr. Martin, who was farming and studying here three years ago, is now a missionary in Labrador.

—The party of laborers sent here from Duluth a few days ago, who were offered reduced wages, proceeded to take legal action against the agent who sent them, and the matter was placed in the hands of Mr. T. C. Johnstone. Before anything definite was done, however, most of them had left town, and Mr. Holt offered to give work to all at regular wages.

MOOSE JAW.

—There was a heavy rain-storm here on Monday night, and since then we have had slight frosts.

—Mr. Chas. Young, one of our enterprising farmers, is ranching about thirty miles south-east of here.

—Messrs. Wm. Riddell and Jas. H. Ross, M.L.A., have returned from Montana, where they have been purchasing stock.

—Mr. William Grayson is putting up a nice new building on Main street, on block 110, which is to be used for a bank and law office.

—Farmers are busy threshing. The steam threshing machines already do not seem to be able to do the work fast enough to meet the demand. Benjamin Smith and Fred. Green are each getting new machines.

EDMONTON.

From The Bulletin.

—P. G. Gray, formerly of Lafferty & Smith's bank at Edmonton, is now in charge of Lafferty & Moore's banking business in Regina.

—Seton Anderson, son of Wm. Anderson, formerly Indian agent at Edmonton, had his collar bone broken by a fall from his horse in Regina recently.

—The Messrs. Stedman, who left Edmonton last spring for Washington Territory, reached their destination at Medical Lake safely. In a letter to M. McLeod, of Little Mountain, they say that the country is very broken there and good locations difficult to get. They wish to say that in all their travels from North-western Ontario to Medical Lake, and they resided some years at Calgary and Moose Jaw, as well as Edmonton, they have never seen as good a country for mixed farming as that extending from the Sturgeon river north of Edmonton to the Lone Pine 160 miles south.

BATTLEFORD.

Saskatchewan Herald.

—The Carrot River Agricultural Society will hold its exhibition on the 25th inst., and Prince Albert Society on the 27th.

—Mr. Kennedy, the bridge contractor, arrived on the last mail, and at once set things in order for a steady prosecution of the work. Part of the iron work is now on the way in from Swift Current.

—J. Minty, a mill expert, arrived from Regina on Tuesday, and proceeded on to Onion Lake. He will examine the machinery of the Indian mill at Frog Lake, the building of which was interrupted by the rebellion, with a view of ascertaining to what extent it can yet be utilized.

—The larger boys at the Industrial School cradled the grain grown by the institution. Half-a-dozen of them worked together and did their work admirably, keeping time as well as the best old time cradlers could have done. This is the right kind of instruction to give the Indians. Being taught the use of implements that will serve them when they take up farms for themselves, and which they will be able to buy for themselves, is a surer way to teach them farming than to let them look on while the work is being done for them with high-priced machines.

GOOD ADVICE.

WHAT SHALL WE WEAR?

NOVELTIES IN DRESS ESPECIALLY DESIGNED FOR SUMMER.

Fashions in Yachting, Seaside and Bathing Costumes—Tollets in Foulard and Mousseline de Laine Described—A Word About French Bathing Suits.

In yachting costumes as in other dresses is to be seen the influence of either director, empire or incorporeal, all exaggerations, however, being avoided by best modistes. Numbered with effective yachting dresses seen was one of navy serge and brown Holland. The waistcoat, cuffs, pocket flaps and undershirt were of the Holland, all embroidered in navy gold and red mixed braid. The little walking jacket and over dress were of the serge and decorated with braiding. The loose front of the jacket were lined with Holland. White glazed sailor hats are to be this year's fashion for yachting, and the black glazed ones are also to be greatly worn—whether they are becoming or not is another question. A very useful yachting or traveling cap has just been brought out by Rollins, which has the merit of being pretty. The material is blue serge, braided with a red, blue and gold braid; small flaps, which go over the ears and under the chin, are also braided and form part of the trimming of the hat, when not in use, being collapsible, it can be easily in an ulster pocket.

SEASIDE COSTUMES.

In the first cut are shown two effective seaside costumes. One is in light green foulard, overlaid with a design consisting of large black leaves. The waistcoat, collar and pocket flaps are in plain green silk, the plaited skirt sleeves and draw pullings to match. The hat is of Manila straw, with flower and ribbon garniture. The remaining figure represents a costume, the skirt and pocket of which are in white mousseline de laine spotted with red. The loose front is of plain pongee silk, as are the collar, revers, etc. The hat is of red tulle, drawn and plaited over the frame.

FRENCH BATHING SUITS.

In the second cut are represented a bathing wrapper and a bath dress. The former is striped with toweling, with a sash in white woven braid with fringed ends. This is a convenient garment for wearing to and from the bath. The bath dress is composed of a tunic and short drawers in navy blue serge, trimmed with white galon. On the shoulder is a large white cloak, useful to wrap about one on coming out from the water.

The Marie Antoinette Scarf.

A novelty for covering the head, shoulders and arms at lawn parties is a lace scarf with capucine, or bow, that can be worn with the low throated corage and short sleeves of full dress toilettes. This scarf resembles somewhat the mantilla worn by Spanish women, but Parisians attribute its origin to Marie Antoinette, who delighted in scarfs and fichus when she and the ladies of her court played at dairy maid and shepherdesses in the pleasure grounds of France. It is simply a long straight scarf of lace, with the middle gathered under a bow of high loops, like those on the crown of a toque, a scalloped edge drooping over the front hair, and the wider edge over the back of the head, while the long ends cover the shoulders, one end crossing the chest, and being fastened on the left shoulder with a fanciful pin.

Such a mantilla accompanies a lovely gown, all pink and black, made of pink crepe de chine and black marquis lace, that is placed as a transparent over pink silk. The half low carriage has short sleeves, one black and one pink, and the front of the bodice is also of pink crepe on the right side, draped diagonally across the black lace which forms the left side. The chemise directly in front is like a baby waist of the pink crepe drawn together on ribbon, with a tiny standing ruffle at the top. The skirt is of pink crepe, draped to show the black net on the left side and down the back, with a ladder of black moire bows on the left of the front, and jabots of the crepe beside the lace panel of the back. A black gauze fan drawn on pink ribbons, a black lace parasol, black silk stockings, and low patent leather shoes are worn with this gown and scarf.—Harper's Bazar.

Novelties in Shoes.

White satin shoes for evening wear have the entire top piece of open work pearl and minute gold bead lattice embroidery. In black and bronze satin shoes the embroidery is in gold and in the delicate shades matching evening gowns. Some shoes have two straps coming from the back of the heel and crossing the ankle and fasten.

New Yokes.

The yokes so fashionable for thin waists and for cotton gowns are very shallow, not reaching quite to the shoulders on the shoulders, and are round in front and back instead of being pointed.

By Rail to Jerusalem.

The British consular agent at Jaffa in his last report on the trade of his district states that a concession for a railway from Jaffa to Jerusalem has been granted by the sultan to Mr. Joseph Navon, an Ottoman subject, for seventy-one years. It is stated that a company has been formed in England and France to carry out the scheme, and that the engineers are soon expected to undertake the work. The carriage road between Jaffa and Jerusalem has been greatly improved. The government sold last year the income from the toll of the road for £2,000, as compared with £1,812 the year before last, which shows an increase in the traffic. The Jewish colonies in Palestine are greatly improving; one of them, which is called Richon le Zion, has planted about 2,000 vines, all promising well. The colonists are good laborers; nearly all their land is cultivated. The greater part of them are Turkish subjects, and are all subject to the laws of the country.—London Times.

Hand on the Advertiser.

There are tidings of great joy for the simple minded foreigner traveling upon English railways. When he expects to get to his destination he often finds himself at Pears' soap or Colman's mustard and Borden's pills. Mr. Sweetenham, M. P., is going to alter all this. He has brought in a bill for the repression of vice and profaneness at railway stations, since it provides that every station should have its name painted upon at least two sign boards, both on the up and on the down platforms. The name is to be painted in plain letters equal in size to the largest letters used in any advertisements displayed within the same station. Moreover, it is forbidden to exhibit any advertisement within ten feet of the station's name as thus notified. The bill comes rather late in the session, but, if necessary, an autumn session ought to be held on purpose to pass it.—St. James' Gazette.

Fright Restored the Voice.

A strange circumstance occurred at Rockport, W. Va., in connection with the flood disaster. Miss Sheets, a daughter of James Sheets, lost her voice last winter, and since then had not been able to speak, except in a whisper. The night of the flood the water came up around the house. In attempting to leave the house Miss Sheets stumbled and fell. She was badly frightened, of course, and tried to scream for help. Immediately she recovered her voice, and found that she could speak as well as ever.—Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

Curious Result of Cigarette Smoking.

Two young men of our town addicted to the constant smoking of cigarettes are singularly affected, not so much in mind as in body. They are becoming spotted all over their bodies, giving them the appearance of leopards. Their minds, though now apparently sound, are in imminent danger, for their nervous systems are so affected that neither of them can sleep without smoking several of these abominable cigarettes after retiring.—Harrodsburg (Ky.) FOUR NEW STATES.

South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana and Washington.

On February 22, 1889, the President signed the bill creating South Dakota, North Dakota, Montana, and Washington states of the Union.

South Dakota.—The great Prairie State, to which the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway has three main lines, reaching Ellendale, Aberdeen, Huron, Watertown, and Sioux Falls. Go to South Dakota via the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway and pass through St. Paul and Minneapolis en route.

North Dakota.—Where is grown No. 1 Hard Scotch Life wheat; whose healthy climate nurtures the most vigorous and buoyant civilization on earth; where single counties raise more wheat, oats and barley, than entire states; the soil of whose fertile prairies is richer than the valley of the Nile; where the Turtle Mountain, Minn., Devil's Lake and districts invite the home seeker to secure a free home. Magnificent daily train service to Fargo, Grand Forks, Grafton, Devils Lake, Bottineau, and all other important points.

Montana, the golden—Treasures in her mines of precious metals; wealth in her 4,000,000 head of live stock; profit in her fertile fields, producing a larger yield of crops than any other state or territory; the richest country per inhabitant on earth where prosperity is universal which has the best paid labor in the world; a fairly water climate, caused by warm winds from the Pacific. The St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway is the only railroad passing through a continuous agricultural country from St. Paul and Minneapolis to the Rocky Mountains. It runs through the Great Reservation of 18,000,000 acres of land, free to settlers, in the Milk River Valley. Wood, water, and coal in abundance; no irrigation required; the only line passing through great falls with its 1,000,000 horse-power capacity; immense coal seams, and surrounding farming country of free land; through Helena, the capital city and commercial centre of Montana, and Butte, the richest mining camp on earth, to San Francisco by the Columbia River Valley, Portland and Seattle Route, or Ogden, Utah, to California points. Remember this is the only line running dining cars, sleeping cars, and free colonist sleepers of its own from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Great Falls, Helena and Butte. It is also the shortest line to Butte.

Washington.—The country of tall timbers, indented by Puget Sound, the Mediterranean of the Pacific. Do not forget that the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway is the only line which offers a choice of three routes to the Pacific coast. The Montana Pacific route is the only line by which passengers en route for Tacoma, Portland and San Francisco can pass through Port Townsend and Seattle. Free colonist sleepers run through without change of delay. Distances to the Pacific Coast is same as by rail, but prices of tickets are five and ten dollars less. Take the Seattle route.

For further information, maps, rates and publications in regard to the resources of the four new states, write or apply to F. I. WHEATLEY, Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agent, St. P. & M. & N. E. St. Paul, Minn.

Sunday School Lessons.

In this country where settlement is so general and may have not frequent opportunities of a Sunday school, our little lessons will be a great help to the study of one set portion of Scripture for each Sunday. The head of the family should collect its members around him and, if possible, sing some hymn and offer prayer; then read the portion of Scripture set for the day, take up each verse and try to induce each member of the family to talk about it and ask questions. The comments on the lesson will give help to make the study interesting and be valuable to and in answering questions. This should not, however, be allowed to interfere with opportunities to attend to preaching service as frequently as possible. To the regular Sunday school teacher and scholar our Bible study column commends itself by experience.

REVIEW OF THE QUARTER.

LESSON XIII, THIRD QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, SEPT. 29.

The Story of the Life of Samuel, the Choice of Saul, the Anointing of David, the Young Shepherd, and the Final End of Saul.

The lessons that have been considered during the quarter just brought to a close have covered one of the most important eras of the history of the chosen people of God.

Lesson I had to do especially with the calling of Samuel by the Most High. Samuel was the son of Elkanah and his wife Hannah, to whom he had been given by the Lord in answer to Hannah's prayer. And according to the vow of his mother the life of Samuel was devoted to the service of God. He was placed in the hands of Eli, the priest, as soon as he had been weaned, and when the sons of Eli had scandalized the people and offended the Lord with their wickedness, he was selected to be Eli's successor.

Now "the word of the Lord was precious in those days." There had been "no open vision" before that vouchsafed to Samuel for a long time. Perhaps herein lies one of the most valuable lessons of the quarter—a lesson for mothers. If you would raise up your sons to be mighty men before the Lord, devote them to God's service from the first.

In Lesson II was told the sorrowful death of Eli and the humiliating defeat of Israel—a defeat that can be clearly traced to disobedience of God's command. Israel had at this time fallen away somewhat from the worship of the one God. But when a war arose between Israel and the Philistines, Israel called upon Jehovah for help. But how! The sacred ark of the covenant was taken from Shiloh, where its place was in the Holy of Holies, to the field of battle. But the command of the Most High had been violated; God did not fight with the Israelites and they were defeated, the Philistines were desperate and fought with a fury that carried all before them. And it is now as it was then—if you desire the Lord to help you in the constant contest with the world you must obey Him.

In Lesson III we were told of the repentance of Israel and the rescue of His people, after twenty years' punishment, out of the hands of the Philistines by the Lord of Hosts. "And the hand of the Lord was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel." In Lesson IV is recorded the action of the Israelites in demanding a king. Samuel had grown old and his sons had been made judges of the people. These sons had done even as had the sons of Eli before them; they turned aside after lucre, and took bribes and perverted justice. But this was no just cause for the Israelites in their demand for a king. God had appointed the method of government for His people, and there is no doubt but He, in His own good time and in His own way, would have corrected the abuses the people suffered and punished those by whom the abuses came. But nothing would satisfy the Israelites short of a king, and so as we are told in Lesson V—they were given one in the person of Saul.

Saul had been sent to find some domestic animals that were lost; he failed, and at last brought out Samuel, the man of God. Samuel had been warned of the coming of Saul, and had been told of God that Saul should be the king whom the Israelites desired. Saul was a "goodly young man," tall and strong—a king in appearance—just what the Israelites desired. God was about to try His people to give them an opportunity to learn that His ways were best. But even when Saul had been shown to the people as he whom the Lord would have to be their king, they rejected him, and deridingly asked: "Shall Saul reign over us?" But Saul delivered them out of the hand of the Ammonites, and then they were convinced. In Lesson VI we studied the last address of Samuel, that wonderful speech of the prophet in which he reviewed before the people the history of their nation, and set out to them the everlasting destiny that their prosperity and unalloyed happiness only come to those who serve God sincerely.

In Lesson VII we learned how the Lord finally rejected Saul because of the disobedience of the latter. God had told him to spare not the Amalekites or their cattle or goods, but Saul had saved Agag, the king, alive, and had kept alive the "best of the sheep and of the oxen and of the fatlings and the lambs and all that was good." These he had preserved for the use of himself, and God told Samuel that this was displeasing to Him. "Isabel," said the prophet, "to obey is better than to sacrifice." Saul, related the man of God, became repentant. But it was too late.

In Lesson VIII we are told of the anointing of David as the chosen of the Lord. When Samuel saw Eliab, a son of Jesse, who was tall and strong and of regal bearing, he said in his heart that here was the future king, but God said not so. "The Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh upon the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart." Oh, blessed assurance, that is and will be ever kept in remembrance by them that love God!

David, the shepherd boy, David, the youngest, David, whom Jesse had not thought worthy to be brought before the prophet—he was the chosen one. Truly, God's ways are not the ways of men.

In Lesson IX is told the story of the killing of Goliath by this youngest son and shepherd, David, who went out before the two armies to meet the most mighty man of the Philistines.

Nothing in all the Old Testament is in its way more affecting than the story of David and Jonathan, which was the subject of Lesson X. Saul had become jealous of David, for had not the women sung:

Saul hath slain his thousands;
And David hath slain his ten thousands!

Saul swore to be the death of David, but the bond of brotherly affection between David and Jonathan saved the shepherd boy. In Lesson XI is told the story of David's great heartedness when he had Saul in his power. David's magnanimity was prompted by a two fold motive. He would not smite a sleeping man. He was too truly brave to do so cowardly an act. Besides, Saul was still the Lord's anointed.

And in Lesson XII is told the story of the last days of Saul. The king had wept the tears of the crocodile when, as told in the previous lesson, he affected to be reconciled to David, and he had continued his pursuit of the shepherd boy. But now Saul was to receive his punishment. War was raging between the Philistines and the Israelites, and it went not well with the latter. Saul saw that defeat, bloody, ignominious defeat, stared him in the face, and he feared to meet it. To run away would be to court additional ignominy. And besides he would inevitably be captured in the end and be put to death with indignity. So he died the death of the coward—he killed himself. His sons were dead before him, and his death was but the culmination of the defeat that had for the time come upon Israel.

How great is the lesson taught in this terribly sad ending of the career of the most mighty man of all Israel, the man chosen of God to be king over His people!

BRONCHITIS CURED.

After spending Ten Winters South, was Cured by Scott's Emulsion.

144 Centre St., New York.

June 25th, 1888.

The Winter after the great fire in Chicago I contracted bronchial affections, and since then have been obliged to spend nearly every Winter South. Last November was advised to try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites and to my surprise was relieved at once, and by continuing its use three months was entirely cured, gained flesh and strength and was able to stand even the Blizzard and attend to business every day.

ARE THE PEOPLE AFRAID?

Time is passing and there seems to be no movement toward taking an expression of the people in reference to the abolition of the official use of the French language and separate schools in the Territories.
Are the people afraid to move in the matter? Are they still shackled with political bias and one party afraid to move lest the other thereby gain some advantage? Or, are they apprehensive lest any movement they make may be abortive on appeal to Ottawa? Why should any of these considerations prevent the people from calling upon their representatives to take action so far as they are able? Can we not put ourselves on record and show politicians that when they draw up a constitution for us there shall be nothing in it that will be burning questions more difficult of eliminating from such constitution than being kept out in the first place? Is not now the time to show what we want, rather than to remain indifferent and drift on the rocks of religious and race prejudices? Should we not bestir ourselves and make our voice heard now when all Canada is looking this way to see what we are going to do?
The people of the country have a high record for intelligence. Shall we remain true to that record?
What do you say? Will you call upon your representatives to move?
Now is the time, let us improve it for our future benefit.

ILL-ADVISED.

Hon. D. McLean, M. P. P., for Dennis, has been sworn in as Provincial Secretary for Manitoba. It appears that his re-election is to be opposed, a Conservative candidate having been nominated to contest the seat. It would seem to be somewhat ill-adviced to oppose the new minister, especially as the Government of which he has been admitted a member has publicly declared its policy to be the abolition of the official use of the French language and the extinction of the separate school system. We trust that Conservatives will not be found in opposition to such a policy.

PRESBYTERY OF REGINA.

The Presbytery of Regina met at Qu'Appelle on the 11th inst.
There was a fair attendance of members. Mr. Hall, of Walseley, intimated that he had decided to accept the call to Stonewall, and the Presbytery arranged that at the beginning of October he be released from his present duty and be transferred to the Winnipeg Presbytery. Mr.
Hamilton and Mr. Campbell reported that they had dispensed sacrament in the Lansdowne and Touchwood fields respectively. Mr.
Taylor reported that he had visited Pense and arranged the matter of request from the people there. It was agreed to sanction the action of the clerk in certifying Mr. Ogilvie to the church in California. The Presbytery arranged for moderation in a call to a minister at Regina when the congregation is ready to proceed. The name of Mr. A. D.
Ferguson, representative Elder of Knox Church, Regina, was placed on the roll. A call from Moose Jaw to Mr. S. J. Taylor was sustained.
Mr. Ferry being heard in behalf of the congregation, Mr. Taylor declared his reception of the call and it was agreed to appoint a meeting at Moose Jaw for his induction on the 17th of October next, at 10 o'clock, the moderator to preside and address the minister, Mr. Ferry to preach and Mr. Robson to address the people. Mr. Ferry called the attention of the Presbytery to Sabbath Schools and to the studies prepared for the higher education of Sunday School scholars. The Presbytery received the report of the committee appointed to visit Moffat, which recommended the enlargement of the present site for church. Messrs. Ferry and Hall having been appointed auditors for the accounts of the Home Mission Committee, reported the accounts to have been kept in a satisfactory condition, and moved a unanimous vote of thanks to Mr. Taylor for his services. Messrs. Ferry and Matheson were added to the Home Mission Committee. Supply was arranged for Qu'Appelle for the present and it was agreed to ask for the appointment of ordained missionaries at Qu'Appelle, Alameda, Wolseley, and catechists for Saskatoon and Green Valley. Mr. Hamilton was appointed to represent the Presbytery at the coming meeting of the Synodical Committee. It was agreed, on the recommendation of the Committee on examination of of Students to certify to their respective Colleges the following students, viz: Messrs. Patterson, Drummond, Frazer, Nicholl, Johnston, Scott and Russell. Some minor matters of Home Mission business were attended to and a conference was held with the Board of management at Qu'Appelle in the evening, the Presbytery adjourning to meet in Moose Jaw on the third Thursday of October next.

NORTHWEST CENTRAL RY.

It is reported from Ottawa that the difficulties in connection with the Northwest Central railway project have been got over, and that there will be a resumption of operations at an early date. Yesterday Mr. Stephens, of Stephens & Co., solicitors, of London, Eng.; Mr.
Grosvenor, also a solicitor of London, along with Mr. J. A. Code, London, and Dr. McMichael, of Toronto, all of whom represent the English capitalists, made final arrangements with the Canadian shareholders for the construction of the entire road.
The English capitalists have not only arranged to take over what has been done, but have also agreed to finish the first fifty miles this fall and next year to complete the road to Battleford. Mr. Charlebois, of Charlebois & Mallette, one of the Canadian directors, has resigned his position, and has accepted the contract to carry out the work. Already some of the rails are in transit to Brandon, and the balance of the first fifty miles have been shipped from London. The majority of the stock is now owned by the London capitalists, and they will control the board absolutely once it has been organized.

NONE TO SOON.

The death of the two political parties over the Jesuit question is one of the most remarkable events which ever happened in the history of Canada. The middle ages had their wars and agonies, but also intense delight. Their gains were dashed with blood, but our political life has been smothered in dust.
They had war and conquest for pastimes, we nothing but politics.
Of late years our political life in Canada became a seamless stuff of brown, forced, mistaken, embittered, uncomplete, and not of heart. The great interests of the country were as neglected at Ottawa as if "Thou shalt not consider them" was in the British North America Act. Nine-tenths of the time was spent by the opposition collaring the government and the other tenth by the government collaring the opposition. The real use and proper function of an opposition was lost by the gross abuse and indiscriminate application of it and the defense of the government amounted to little more than a resetting of partisan views. Men in a government do not mean to act erroneously, but the extreme complication, uncertainty and consequent difficulty of political things not so much in discovering new principles as in applying them renders self-deception one of the easiest things in the world. The most senseless bigot is always the man who is least aware of his partisan bias. The opposition spent their time searching out blemishes, aggravating spots, in exaggerating evils and in trying to make the people believe they were oppressed and unhappy. Frequently measures important for the good government of the country have either been withdrawn or not introduced. That there is an end to this wretched state of affairs ought to be a matter of national rejoicing.

The position of the Prohibition party to-day is such that we may well thank God, and take courage.
Every man admits that whatever happens the result will be a great accession of strength to our party.
Men are turning to us by the thousand, and who a year ago considered our movement hopeless, and we have now a prospect of making more converts in one year than under ordinary circumstances we would make in ten.—Canadian Voice.

No. 520.—Metagram.
Six letters constitute the whole:
Draw hither, welcome friend;
Here cluster all our household joys,
And pleasures have no end.
Remove one letter, head or foot,
In either case the name,
If head, it leaves you all the world,
If foot, the sacred flame
Of life is kept aglow, by this,
Its courage, purpose, love;
And listen, for I bid you to
When the next foot you remove, You're deaf! Would'st have me lend an ear?
I will, behead again,
Replace a foot, behold once more,
And "science" will remain.

Correspondence.

To the Editor of THE PROGRESS:

SIR: From a letter just received by me from the Secretary of the Royal Canadian Institute, London, you will be gratified to hear that with regard to your supplying your valuable paper, free of charge, for the use of the Fellows of the R. C. I., the Secretary informs me that your paper is regularly received and much appreciated.

Yours truly,

C. E. COLLEN,

F.R.C.I.

To the Editor of THE PROGRESS:

Our attention was called some time ago to a paragraph in the Vidette stating that their attention had been repeatedly called to a paragraph in THE PROGRESS which they fancied reflected a certain amount of stigma on the Secretary of the Board of Education.

That the Vidette should defend the Secretary if it sees fit and any defence is called for, we object not, but that it should stigmatise the teacher at the Station as the writer of the paragraph above mentioned seems hardly just. For those who not only appear to know but really do know, affirm that the "teacher at the Station" knew nothing about this paragraph. As no one has seen fit to say a word for the Station teacher in this regard we beg to offer the above remarks.
